Wouldn't it be cool if you could play music from your Smartphone onto a stereo speaker that's smaller than the Smartphone but sounds like it's several times the size? That's the idea behind the GL Traveler. It's a great little Bluetooth wireless amplified stereo speaker that packs a lot of volume in a small footprint. Small and light weight the Traveler can be worn on your belt, backpack, armband, or thrown into a bag. Although it fits in the palm of your hand and comes with a mini pop up stand, Sound Expansion Technology makes the GL Traveler sound as though you have two stereo speakers spaced a few feet apart right in front of you. The GL Traveler also comes with a built-in mic which means it can be used as a hands free device. With a sturdy clip the GL Traveler can be mounted on to your car's sun visor and with Voice Caller ID the GL Traveler will tell you who's calling without you having to look on your phone's display. Take the GL Traveler with you wherever you go.
